

WhatsApp Sales Quick Reference

Formal English Edition

Document Purpose

Target users: English-speaking customers coming from Facebook and Instagram ads.

Purpose: Give sales representatives short, practical scripts they can copy, adapt, and send quickly.

Goal: Reduce the common problem of sending only a link and losing momentum in the sale.

How to Use This Guide

Read the customer's first message first, then choose the matching scenario and script.

Reply briefly first instead of sending a long template.

Offer only two choices at a time so the customer does not need to study the full catalog alone.

Every message should point to a next step, such as: Do you want starter pricing or the full total?

Responses the Team Should Avoid

Hello

Hi, welcome...

Which product are you interested in?

Have you chosen a good product yet?

Feel free to ask me any questions

These replies feel empty and over-scripted, and they often cool down the conversation.

Standard Conversion Structure

Customer question -> brief answer -> narrow to two options -> solution-style quote -> objection handling -> payment push

1. Core Rules for the First Chat

Whatever the customer asks, answer that first. If they ask about price, give pricing direction first. If they ask about shipping, give delivery timing and shipping cost first. If they ask about testing, provide the relevant report for that specific product first.

Do not begin by sending reviews, the website, or the full product catalog. Those can be supporting materials, but they should not be the main reply.

Keep early conversation rounds short. Aim for no more than two sentences in the first reply and no more than three sentences in the second reply.

Every reply should include a clear next step so the customer can continue the conversation easily.

Universal Opening Structure

Hi, thanks for reaching out.

Based on your question, the most relevant options are A and B.

A is usually chosen for _____. B is more often compared for _____.

Do you want the starter pricing or the full total with shipping first?

Example: Short Reply to a Short Question

Q: How long does shipping take?

A: For the U.S., standard shipping is usually 8-12 days and express is 5-7 days. If you already know the item you want, I can calculate the full total for you now.

2. Weight Loss Customers

Scenario 1: Customer says “Weight loss peptides”

When to use

The customer only gives a general weight-loss direction and has not named a specific product yet.

Sales action

1. Acknowledge the weight-loss need first.
2. Narrow the discussion immediately to tirzepatide and retatrutide.
3. Use “lower-cost option” versus “stronger option” to encourage a reply.

Copy-and-Paste Script 1 - First Response

Hi, thanks for reaching out.

For weight-loss products, most people usually compare tirzepatide and retatrutide first.

Do you want the lower-cost option or the stronger option first?

Copy-and-Paste Script 2 - Push Forward

I can send you the most popular starter sizes and pricing for both right now.

Do you want the starter option or the best-value option first?

Scenario 2: Customer says “I want all GLPs” or “all GLPs and a few others”

When to use

The customer wants to see GLP-type products but does not want to filter through them alone.

Sales action

4. Do not send the full website catalog.
5. Put semaglutide, tirzepatide, and retatrutide into one comparison frame immediately.
6. Position semaglutide as the more budget-friendly starting option, while tirzepatide and retatrutide are compared for stronger results.

Copy-and-Paste Script 1 - Three-Option Comparison

Sure - the most commonly asked GLP options are semaglutide, tirzepatide, and retatrutide.

Semaglutide is usually the more budget-friendly starting option.

Tirzepatide and retatrutide are more often compared by clients looking for stronger results.

Would you like me to send the most popular sizes and pricing for these three?

3. Bodybuilding Customers

Scenario 3: Customer says “Bodybuilding peptides”

When to use

The customer wants bodybuilding products but usually does not know specific product names.

Sales action

7. Do not send the full catalog first.
8. Break the need into recovery, body recomposition, or GH-related support.
9. Let the customer choose only one direction.

Copy-and-Paste Script 1 - First Response

Got it - for bodybuilding, most people usually ask about:

1) recovery support

2) body recomposition / fat loss
3) GH-related support
Which direction are you mainly looking for? I can send the best two options with pricing.

Scenario 4: Customer shares many body details but has not ordered yet

When to use

These customers engage deeply, but long, instruction-manual style replies often drive them away.

Sales action

10. Do not give a long scientific explanation.
11. Narrow the conversation to two recommendation paths.
12. End the round by offering pricing for two clear options.

Copy-and-Paste Script 1 - Narrowing Down

Thanks - that helps.
Based on what you shared, I'd narrow it down to two directions:
1) recovery-focused
2) fat-loss / body recomposition
I can send you the best starting option for each with pricing.

4. Beauty Customers

Scenario 5: Customer says “Beauty peptides”

When to use

The customer usually knows they want better skin, but not the exact product name.

Sales action

13. Categorize by goal first.
14. Offer three directions: skin repair, glow / brightening, and anti-aging support.
15. Recommend two products after the customer answers.

Copy-and-Paste Script 1 - First Response

Hi, thanks for reaching out.
For beauty products, clients usually ask about:

1) skin repair
2) glow / brightening
3) anti-aging support
Which one matters most to you? I can recommend the most popular two options first.

Scenario 6: Customer already mentions GHK-Cu, glow, or a specific product name

When to use

The customer is already close to the quotation stage.

Sales action

16. Do not explain the product again.
17. Move directly to the choice between unit price and full total with shipping.

Copy-and-Paste Script 1 - Price Push

Yes, that one is popular.
Do you want just the unit price, or the full total with shipping?
I can send both right away.

5. Customers Asking for Price Lists, Catalogs, or Screenshots

Scenario 7: Customer says “Can you send a price list or catalog?”

When to use

The customer explicitly wants a catalog, but usually only wants the section that matches their category.

Sales action

18. Do not send the entire catalog at once.
19. Ask which category they want first: weight loss, bodybuilding, beauty, or recovery.
20. Then send screenshots of the most relevant section.

Copy-and-Paste Script 1 - Catalog Routing

Sure - I can send that.
To save your time, which category do you want first: weight loss, bodybuilding, beauty, or recovery?

I'll send the most relevant section first.

Scenario 8: Customer says “The file won’t open” or asks for screenshots

When to use

The customer is not uninterested. They simply cannot open the file.

Sales action

21. Remove the obstacle first.
22. Send screenshots immediately instead of changing the subject.
23. Then ask which product they want priced first.

Copy-and-Paste Script 1 - Screenshot Follow-Up

No problem - I'll send screenshots here.

These are the main options in this category.

Which one do you want me to price first?

Scenario 9: Customer sends only a specific model, such as “RT15”

When to use

This type of customer is already close to the quotation stage.

Sales action

24. Do not reply with a generic welcome message.
25. Answer directly with availability, unit price, or full total.

Copy-and-Paste Script 1 - Specific Model

RT15 is available.

Do you want just the unit price, or the total with shipping included?

I can send both right away.

6. Objection Handling Quick Reference

Customer Objection	Copy-and-Paste Reply
Shipping is too expensive	I understand - for smaller orders, shipping can feel higher because it is charged by weight tier.

Customer Objection	Copy-and-Paste Reply
	You can choose the standard line at $50, or I can help you add 1-2 items to make the shipment more worthwhile. Which do you prefer?
What is the minimum order?	The minimum is 10 vials per item. If you want, I can show you the most common first-order option and total price.
How long does shipping take?	For the U.S., standard shipping is usually 8-12 days and express is 5-7 days. If you already know the item you want, I can calculate the full total for you now.
Is it third-party tested?	Yes - we can provide third-party lab reports for the specific item you are asking about. Tell me the exact product, and I'll send the latest report for that item.
What payment methods do you take?	We accept card, PayPal, crypto, and bank transfer. For first orders, card and PayPal are usually the easiest. Which one would you like to use? I can prepare it for you right away.

Important Reminder
Once a customer asks about payment, shipping, MOQ, or testing, they are no longer just casually chatting.
At that stage, replies must be short, accurate, and fast. Do not go back to generic welcome messages.

7. Payment Closing SOP

When the customer says: “I’ll do a card” or “Send me the link”

Great - I can prepare that for you now.

Please send me your full name, shipping address, phone number, and email for delivery and payment setup.

After receiving the address

Thank you - I’ve got your order details.

Here is your order summary:

Product: ____

Shipping: ____

Total: ____

I'll send the payment link next.

After sending the payment link

Here is your payment link. Once payment is completed, please let me know and I'll arrange the next step right away.

After the customer pays

Thank you - payment received. We'll prepare your order and keep you updated on shipment.

8. Follow-Up SOP

Follow-Up Situation	Copy-and-Paste Message
Weight-loss customer after 24 hours	Just checking in - for weight loss, most first-time buyers usually compare tirzepatide and retatrutide first. Do you want the starter pricing for both?
Bodybuilding customer after 24 hours	Based on your goal, I can narrow it down to recovery-focused or body recomposition-focused options. Which one should I price first?
Beauty customer after 24 hours	Just following up - if your main goal is skin repair, glow, or anti-aging, I can send the best two options with pricing.
Customer who asked about shipping	For the U.S., the most common choice is the standard line at 8-12 days. If you already know the product you want, I can calculate the exact total for you now.

Final Reminder for Sales Representatives
Customers often do want to buy; they simply have not been guided to the decision point of "Option A or Option B?"
Do not keep sending links, videos, or PDFs. Help the customer choose first, then provide pricing, then move toward payment.